

Scapa Joins SWM International

To Our Suppliers,

On April 15, 2021, we announced (https://bit.ly/SWM_Scapa) that Scapa Group Plc is now a part of SWM International. We are coming together to create a single, stronger global enterprise with a broad array of complementary capabilities and expertise in performance materials across key industries.

Together, we have greater scale and capabilities, broader expertise, and a relentless dedication to serving our customers. This means that we will be able to provide a more complete portfolio of solutions, a greater focus on innovation, and enhanced value to meet the evolving needs of customers and the industries we serve.

Our teams will be working together to determine how we will integrate. While there may be some changes within our organization, not much will change for you. As we move through the integration process, we will provide updates as there is more information to share.

This is an incredibly proud day for all of us, and we appreciate your continued support and partnership on this journey. We're excited about the new SWM and the opportunities ahead for our business, employees, customers, and suppliers.

SWM International is a leading global performance materials company. Our highly engineered papers, films, nets and nonwovens are designed and manufactured using natural fibers and polymers for a variety of industries and applications. We provide our customers with essential components that enhance the performance of their products. End markets served include filtration, transportation, infrastructure and construction, medical, industrial, tobacco, energy, food services and home décor.
